CLAY COUNTY BONDS. They Go Begging Because Not Made Payable in Gold.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal, W. H. Cutshall has been endeavoring for the last month to dispose of $91,500 worth of gravel road bonds. The bonds are made payable in the lawful money of the United States, and this is where the hitch comes in. Mr. Cutshall received a letter this afternoon from W. J. Hays & Son, bankers, of Cleveland, notifying him that they would not consider the purchasing of the bonds unless they were made payable in Warren Leach & Co., bankers, of Chicago, notified the treasurer that they could not purchase the bonds until the financial skies clear up. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 24.-A terrific windstorm passed over the southern part of the city at 3 o'clock this morning, the heaviest rain falling in many years. Several barns were blown down, and the residence of William Norris was lifted from the foundation and landed in the middle of the street-car track, 200 feet away. Mr. and Mrs. Norris, the only occupants of the house, were severely injured. ome of the contents of the house were found eight blocks away, and some have entirely disappeared. The reports from Clark county, Illinois, west of here, are that the storm did much damage to crops and to buildings. The heavy rains of the past few days have caused bridge destruction that will entail an expenditure of $25-000 by the commissioners of this county.

REVOLUTIONARY NEWSPAPERS.

Copies from Boston and New York Found in Bluffton. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

BLUFFTON, Ind., July 24.-Mrs. Eliza Alger, of this city, is the owner of what are probably the oldest and most valuable newspapers in the State of Indiana. One is a copy of the Boston Gazette and County Journal, published in Boston, Mass., under date of Monday, March 12, 1770. The paper is a three column folio and every line in the twelve columns breathes the revolutionary spirit. The inside pages are bordered in black and devoted to a detailed account of the Boston massacre, giving the number of lives lost, number injured, account of the public funeral which took place from Faneui! Hall and the efforts made by the town people to have the British soldiers removed. It also gives the articles of agreement signed by merchants of Boston and surrounding towns in which they refuse to import any article from England, including foreign teas, until the revenue acts are repealed (case of sickness excepted.) Receiver for Anderson Telegram. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ANDERSON, Ind., July 24 .- This afternoon W. W. Denison, one of the stockholders of the Evening Telegram, who has been city editor, went into court and asked for a receiver for the paper. He alleges that, owing to dissensions among the stockholders, it is impossible to longer operate the paper profitably, and that there are several claims that must be met. Judge Ellison appointed Mark Turney, an attorney, and exsecretary of the Democratic county central committee, to take charge of the plant and issue the paper. It is stated that the plant is valued at $1,900, and that there are outstanding obligations amounting to almost $1,000. The paper was started as a labor organ, turned Republican, and during this week the manager announced that it would be isued as a free-silver and labor paper.

MOUNT'S TWO MEETINGS

THE SENATOR ON THE PLATFORM THREE HOURS IN MUNCIE.

Businesslike Exposition of the Financial Question That Took Well with His Hearers.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., July 24.-The Republican campaign in Delaware, the banner Republican county in Indiana, was launched today by Hon. James A. Mount, candidate for Governor. A steady downpour of rain all of last night and this morning added to the discomfiture of a big crowd, but did not keep people away. The meeting was to have been held on the public square, but the weather drove the crowd to the large court room. Standing room was all taken and hundreds could not get inside to hear the speaker. This made it necessary that two meetings be held, and those at the first filed out at its close and let the overflow come in. The room was packed at both meetings. Farmer Mount talked from 2 to 5 o'clock in order to accommodate both crowds. The number that heard him is estimated at 2,500. In some respects it was the most remarkable political meeting ever held in Muncie. The people were hungry for political information, and farmer Mount stood up for three hours and laid down the doctrine as it had never been done in this city before to-day. The attention was flattering to one who makes no claim to flighty oratory. In his audience were both Democrats and Republicans, and there were hosts of farmers present. At times the crowd applauded with great earnest-Greencastle. We congratulate the univer- ness, making the stone building fairly shake. The speaker stated that Kokomo

The Republican party has a record which it is proud of, while the opposition dare not open its books or refer to the record it has made. This reason alone will elect Major McKinley. Mr. Mount's argument throughout showed very careful preparation, he having secured statistics that were convincing even to Democratic doubters. His talk was more like that of a business man than a politician. After the meeting adjourned the audience gathered about the public square in small knots discussing the speech until nightfall. Hundreds of factory employes were set to thinking by the speech.

Aid from Kentucky.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TELL CITY, Ind., July 24.-The Hon, E. T. Frank, candidate for Congress in the Second Kentucky district, was the principal speaker at a Republican meeeting held here to-day in the opera house. The build ing was filled by voters, and Mr. Frank's address was liberally applauded. He is a speaker and campaigner of more than ordinary ability. The line of argument was the combined issue of gold basis and protection man settlement, largely engaged in manu facturing, and its substantial public buildings and private residences emphasize the frugality and industry of its people. Free and unlimited silver coinage has but few advocates in this hive of industry. Tell City will show an increased Republican vote this fall, and so will Perry county, in which it is located. John Zimmerman, of Cannelton, is county chairman, and among his assistants is Charles S. Fricke, of Tell City. A McKinley club was organized last night and another was organized to-night at Cannelton, where Mr. Frank again addressed his Hoosier neighbors.

VIEWS OF R. P. PORTER. He Thinks the Tariff Issue Should Be

Forced to the Front. CHICAGO, July 24.-Robert P. Porter, late chief of the Census Bureau at Washington, arrived at Republican headquarters to-day to enter on his duties at chief caretaker of the tariff interests in the coming campaign. "Major McKinley's nomination was not only by acclamation of the delegates to the St. Louis convention," he said, "but by the voice of the great majority of the people of the United States. The cause of that spontaneous uprising was not the money question; it was a demand for the to American industry. Tell City is a Ger- restoration of protection and the benefits which accrue to a people governed by protection principles. The other side has tried to turn the issue to a contest between gold and silver, and our people have thus far made a mistake in allowing this issue to supersede the greater issue on which Mc-Kinley's nomination was made almost unanimously by the entire people. Now, while it will not do to belittle that issue, we must not allow it to occupy the whole stage, to the exclusion of the more important question of reviving business indusup American industries in the past.

YARDE-BULLER DIVORCE CASE. Letter Written by the Plaintiff to His Wife Read in Court. LONDON, July 24 .- The cross-examination of the Hon. Walter Yarde-Buller, of Churston court. Devonshire, in his action for divorce from Leilah Kirkham Yarde-Buller, formerly of San Francisco, was continued before the Right Hon. Sir Francis Henry Jeune to-day. The petitioner admitted that he had written a letter to his wife in June 1893 in which he had said: "To think that my hand has brought all this sorrow upon your head. God forgive my sins against you. I can offer no ex-cuse. I have behaved in a weak and olackguardly manner without cause. have no reason to act in the wicked and cowardly way that I have done. I will try to expiate my sins. Mr. Yarde-Buller admitted that he was writing the truth when he penned the foregoing sentences. He had requested a doc tor to ascertain and certify if his wife were insane. He had himself gone to Churston court to see his wife. He had taken a pane of glass out of the window in order to obtain ingress to the house. He had written to Lord Churston, his brother, to the effect that he (the petitioner) had been entirely wrong in stating that his wife drank to excess, and that, not aware that his wife had been obliged to do the household work for herself and children at Churston court. She, herself, had dismissed the servants. He had never bruised or hurt his wife except when acting in self-defense. He had not ordered her out of the house nor told her to go on the street. On re-direct examination Mr. Yarde-Buller testified that at the time he rade the acquaintance of Valentine Gadesden in San Francisco the latter was teaching music. The petitioner's wife had introduced them, saying: "You ought to know that man; he is my cousin, Cyril Flowers." Gadesden is the co-respondent in the pending action. One of the dismissed domestics corroborated the statement of Mr. Yarde-Buller that his wife had locked him out of the house, chased him with a butcherknife and and thrown dishes at him. Trial of Transvaal Raiders.

LONDON, July 24.-In the trial at bar of Dr. Jameson, Major Sir John Willoughby. Col. R. Grey, Col. S. F. White, G. J. White and Henry Coventry, in the Queen's Bench division of the High Court of Justice, the prosecution closed its case this morning. The defendants are accused of violation of the foreign enlistment act in the matter of the invasion of the territory of the South African Republic in December last. After luncheon Sir Edward Clark, for the defendants, submitted to the court that there was no evidence to go before the jury that the foreign enlistment act was in force in 1895 at either Mafeking or Pitsani, where the expedition was prepared. The objection was overruled and court adjourned until Parade of Military Cyclists.

LONDON, July 24 .- An unique parade by 600 military cyclists took place at Aldershot to-day in response to an invitation from the Duke of Connaught for all those in his command who had bicycles to assemble there. This step was taken by his Royal Highness as a means of finding out how many bicyclists he could muster. The Duke of Connaught himself, two generals and several other officers were present and mounted on bicycles.

Turks Slaughtered by Greeks. ATHENS, July 24.-News has been received here from Salonika that a band of Greek insurgents invaded Macedonia and engaged a detachment of Turkish troops at Kara-Tsari, near Moussa. The rout of the Turks was complete. Only three out of eighty-three escaped, while eighteen of the oldiers were captured and the rest killed. Two battalions of Turkish soldiers were immediately dispatched in pursuit of the Losses by Fire. SAVANNAH, Ga., July 24.-Fire early this morning destroyed the Planters' rice mill its granary, its wharf and the large Duckworth warehouse, together with 35,000 bushels of rough rice and about the same quantity of cleaned rice. The mill property was valued at $85,000, the rice at $50,000, while the loss on the Duckworth warehouse and its contents of common salt, etc., belonging to C. M. Gilbert & Co., is placed at fully $40,000. On the Planters' rice mil building and machinery, owned by a stock company, the insurance was $48,000, and on the stock of rice there was $27,000 insurance. On the Gilbert stock there was less
